Quarantine/Isolation Monitoring System

The QuaranTag™ Quarantine/Isolation Monitoring System provides a way to not only label a quarantined patient, but also monitor their release.

Designed to assist first responders, first receivers, healthcare providers, and healthcare facilities in labeling and monitoring patients who are under quarantine and/or isolation. Use the QuaranTag™ to not only label patient rooms, but also the patient via a tag that can either be attached to the patient via the string, wristband, or applying directly to the patient's equipment. This system also allows you to link the patient to their personal property plus monitor and track their release status.
